Course Name

City and Guilds Level 3 in Learning and Development (new to role) - Module 2

Course Description

This interactive programme is aimed at new Workforce Development Specialists and forms part of their route to competence. Working towards the qualification this programme, formed of 2 highly learner centred modules approximately 6 months apart, learners will cover the theory required to complete assignments and have the opportunity to practice and develop their training delivery skills. Competence is assessed by way of completing assignments, a review of work products, professional discussions and observed training delivery sessions. Whilst the information to complete assignments is covered on the modules, delegates will be expected to do additional research and assignment work outside the classroom environment.
